IT ENDORSES EDUCATORS' PLAN

Meeting of School Principals Approves Council's Initia- tive Proposal

COMMITTEE NAMED TO GET SIGNATURES

Would Have Seven Named by Governor Conduct State
Educational Affairs

A meeting of the principals of the various schools of Orange County this morning gave its endorsement to the initiative proposal of the State Council of Education, and appointed a committee to circulate and secure signers to the initiative petitions.

In short, the plan of the Council of Administration, composed of educators of the state chosen by teachers' associations, is to establish a state board of education of seven, to be appointed by the voters. The board shall appoint the state superintendent of schools, and to take the printing of state text-books out of the hands of the state printer.

There is to be submitted to the people a constitutional amendment known as the Shanahan amendment, which provides for free text-books. The initiative proposal is an amendment to this constitutional amendment, and both are to be voted upon at the same time.

Under the initiative proposal the state board members shall hold office for nine years, except that those first appointed shall be distributed for appointments ranging from one year to seven. If the plan goes into effect, the elective superintendent will no longer be an elective office, will be filled by appointment by the state board, and the salary shall be not less than that paid to the secretary of state. Assistants shall be appointed by the state board, and one of them shall be assistant superintendent of indus-

The state board shall select a list of text-books of standard fitness, and city and county boards shall select their list of school books, which shall be changed often more than once in our years. It is proposed to buy the books in the open market. The educators take the stand that hitherto books issued from the state printer's office have cost more than the same books purchased elsewhere. The books are furnished in other states and oftentimes by private concerns. As in the Shanahan amendment, text-books are to be furnished free to school

Business Men Join With Those East of Railroads Asking for Crossing's Change

G. L. Dodds today filed with City Clerk Burke the petitions that he and others circulated asking that the city trustees render the East Fourth street crossing of the railroads "safe to life and limb," and to take steps to keep the trains from stopping with cars across the streets.

To this petition are signed 129 names. The intent of the petition is a boost for the talked of subway, though no mention of the subway appears in the petition.

Accompanying this petition is one signed by about thirty business men and women of Santa Ana. This supplemental petition reads:

"We, the undersigned business men of the city of Santa Ana, recognizing the merits of the above petition and the fact that the above crossing as it exists is a hindrance to the greater growth of the city would respectfully recommend that such steps be taken as may be necessary to alleviate and permanently remedy the dangerous and vexatious conditions existing at the above crossing, that patrons lying east may have a safe and easy access to our city and schools."

That the petition was being circulated some time ago was known, and Frank Ey, president of the Board of City Trustees, expected that it would

Two of the characters in "The Spring Maid," at the Grand Opera House, Wednesday, May 8th

AMUSEMENTS

That opera of swaying, passion-tinted rhythm, "The Spring Maid," which marked the passage of the Waltz King's crown from Johann Strauss to Heinrich Reinhardt, will be sung by Werba and Luescher's company of singers at the Grand Opera House, Wednesday, May 8th.

It is a picture of elegance, of sparkling life beauty that irresistibly charms and amuses. The spirit of gay Carlsbad with the mischievous making spring girls and the audacious officers, the merry humor of the strolling band of players, the dainty fascination of the legendary story of the hunted rabbit and the huntsman, the wood nymphs and the unusual ballet scenes, adorning swains and adorable dresses, light laughter and song are in it and make memorable and kaleidoscopic pictures.

Though threads of intrigue tangle into the play that could live without a note of music, and hold the sure attention of the hearers, misunderstandings and unexpected denouements come thick and fast, and develop a climax unusually dramatic for light opera.

Of almost equal importance with the story and merry harmonies is the scenic investiture Werba and Luescher have given with a lavish hand. The scene at Carlsbad Springs in gay costume and panoramic view of the village; the colorful peasant fete at Bitterbrunnen, and the forest scene with springing fountains and fitting elves amid the human love-makers, make remarkable stage pictures.

Wonderful Talking Pictures

Tonight and Sunday night will be your last opportunity to see and hear the Wonderful Talking and Moving pictures, presented only at the Temple Theater. These latest sound and action production in motion photography are pronounced by all who have had the opportunity to enjoy them, to be the most amazing as well as pleasing entertainment of its kind that they have ever enjoyed. Talking and singing moving pictures are not exactly new, and like all other new inventions were crude in the beginning, but time and labor improve all, and the great Edison has not been idle in this line, and the ones now at the Temple are his latest. There is complete change nightly of these pictures and the Temple is where they are. Don't wait till they are gone, see them now. The big new show at the Bell is great.

Long Beach Is Winner Of Oratorical Contest

Long Beach, first; Glendale, second; Pasadena, third. This was the result of the Southern California Inter-urban Oratorical League contest which took place last evening in the high school auditorium before an appreciative audience. The contest was for the league banner which was formerly held by Throop Institute of Pasadena. The judges were Miss Lucy Osborne of Pomona, Judge Curtis D. Wilbur of Los Angeles and Mr. Herbert E. Dennis of U. S. C. The first oration of the evening was delivered by Miss Dorothy Harding of Santa Ana High School, on the subject of "A Plea for Civic Righteousness." Miss Harding put forth some strong arguments concerning the trusts, how they cheat the public of large sums of money. She also cited the corruption of the political "bosses" in New York, Chicago, Milwaukee and San Francisco, and said that the remedy was for men to have devotion for their fellow-men, such as is shown by the noble lives of Lincoln, Washington and Jackson, who strived for the betterment of the men in our country.

Miss Harding said there was a crying need for better politics, and that we need and must strive for a clean government. The second oration was by Mr. Preston of Huntington Beach High School, on the subject "Solve the Immigration Problem by Education." Mr. Preston said that millions of strangers come to this country each year seeking homes. He contended that it was absurd to build a Chinese wall around this nation, and shut out the immigrant, on the contrary it is important that the American people should improve their condition and educate them. Mr. Preston said that New York tenement houses have teachers for immigrants, so that they may learn the American language and customs. He asked the question, "Who regrets that Columbus landed here?" and said that all were foreigners in the true sense of the word, and that the Indian was the only natural American.

The third oration was delivered by Mr. Atwood of Pasadena High School. His subject was "One Lesson From Savonarola's Life." The speaker related Savonarola's life from when he was born until he died a martyr for his high ideals.

Mr. Preston gave a vivid portrayal of how Savonarola was born to wealth, and position, but forsook all to better mankind. He even denounced the pope himself and when he was excommunicated by the pope, he still stood for what was right. He said that this age of the dollar must have high ideals.

The fourth oration was by Mr. Story of Glendale High School, on "The New Patriotism." Mr. Story gave a plea for justice. Give children schools and education instead of sweat-shops. Love should be our doctrine. He finished his splendid oration by the quotation, "Workers of the World, Unite."

The fifth and last oration was by Mr. Beckman of Long Beach High School, on the subject, "The Evolution of Power." He spoke of the Indians and Napoleon's strength, and how people worshipped him because of his strength. He related the battles of Waterloo and Gettysburg, but said that this strength was used in the wrong way. Each fought for a principle. Mr. Beckman said that the success of peace depends on everyone of today. Shall we see the time when nation will not use strength against nation?

During the interval while the judges were deciding, the Santa Ana and Glendale boys kept things lively by their school yells and songs. The decision was: Mr. Beckman, Long Beach, first. Mr. Story, Glendale, second. Mr. Atwood, Pasadena, third.

Hold Thou My Hand

(William A. Sharp, Alhambra, Cal.) My wee one walked upon the wall— What child but hungers thus to go— Her eye alert lest she should fall On that rough-bouldered pave below. At length she stopped, and this her plea.

—As though o'erfull of care her cup— All-father, when we walk the way That teems with pit-falls for our feet, That baby plea of bygone days Might in our sorest needs be meet, Tired out with watchfulness and care, With strife for paltry bite and sup, "Thou hold our hands," we make our prayer.

"That while we walk we may look up."

CHICAGO, April 27.—Sweeping through Chicago at the rate of fifty miles an hour, a cyclone yesterday smashed plateglass windows, ripped cornices, toppled pedestrians into the gutter and generally wrought havoc though no serious personal injuries were reported. Many persons narrowly escaped flying debris.

As a street car was passing 33 North Wabash avenue a heavy fifty-foot flagpole on the top of the building hurtled through the air and grazed the car, striking the pavement with a terrific thud.

Another cyclone swept Southern Illinois. Mrs. William Weller was killed at Carbondale and Miles Brooks was perhaps fatally injured. The homes of both families were destroyed.

MCKINLEY SCHOOL VS. GARDEN GROVE

Santa Ana School Wins—Four Runs Features in Six-Inning
Ball Game

Lee Brown was in fine form at Garden Grove yesterday afternoon, and the Green and Orange team of McKinley school was returned an easy winner. It was so easy that many of the spectators left the field after the fifth inning because there was nothing further to wait for. McKinley had four runs, Garden Grove one.

With his curve ball working in great shape and a speedy ball fooling the opposing batters every time he threw it over. Brown was not in danger at any time. While he was getting rid of the opposing batters in short order, his team mates were batting the ball hard.

Edwards, behind the bat for McKinley, played a star game, his two-bagger in the fifth bringing in two runs.

The McKinley boys all hit the ball hard. "Buck" Fippis, Minnix, D. Burrell, Pittman, Edwards and V. Burrell all getting two hits; Strong, Brown and Johnson one hit each.

Score by innings:
McKinley 1 0 1 0 2 * 4

FINANCIAL AID FOR THE FARMERS

The biggest industry in the world, in which more capital is invested and more men are employed, with the exception of the railroads, receives less encouragement from men of finance than any other industry.

The western banker will readily grub-stake a prospector in the delusive hope that he will find gold, but shows a marked reluctance to grub-stake the farmer in his search for the hidden treasure, but for the returns to be derived from tilling the fertile soil.

If the financiers who are tinkering with currency legislation would follow the example of other countries and assure substantial and adequate aid to the prospective farmer more material prosperity would follow the experiment than devotion to any of the other phases of the monetary problem now under consideration.

Throughout the entire country every facility is afforded in the way of long time credit for anybody who wants a piano, clothing, city lots, in fact anything to be sold in a city, is sold or leased to the man in town without cash or security on long time, but where are the companies or concerns that lend on long time the necessary capital to grub-stake a farmer. It is not a question of getting the land; that can be taken up or bought on long time and on very easy terms, or even on the crop payment plan. But in what way can the man who wants to leave the crowded city or migrate here from a foreign shore tide himself over until he gets returns? It is perfectly obvious that it takes money to buy transportation, farm implements, seed, necessary live stock, to build a small house and barn, and buy groceries and feed. This outlay must be made with no prospect of being able to pay until the crops are marketed. Again the average farm proposition requires at least a year to clear the land and prepare it for crops, and, in the case of citrus fruit groves, a longer time is required before returns can be realized.

There must be some class of "commercial paper" developed to supply this demand. There is no suggestion of charity in asking a land company or other financial institution interested in the development of a new country to aid worthy settlers. The idea has been approved as a theory, but save in a few isolated instances there has been a decided hang-back in its practice. The "back to the land" cry is right, but there should be provided some agency, governmental or otherwise, to help the settler establish himself. It would be a safe investment for the capitalist; it would be patriotic for Uncle Sam, as he would be helping to build up a nation of free and independent men.

France, Germany and Spain give this kind of financial encouragement to their farming classes. In fact, Europe is profitably over-run with a system of credit banks, organizations whereby farmers and other men of small resources and credit co-operate as to secure loans for productive purposes at low interest. It is probably the best economic and truly educational invention of the last century.

Seventy per cent of the increased population of the western part of this country were moved on the colonist rates made by the railroads, these corporations using every means of exploiting the country and bringing farmers here. But some means needs to be devised to aid the settlers to develop and contribute to the growth of this vast agricultural empire between the Rocky mountains and the Pacific ocean.

THE HOLLOWNESS OF TAFT CLAIMS
Redlands Facts: The Facts has at all times tried to treat President Taft, even as a candidate for re-election, in a manner befitting the exalted position he occupies, and the consideration due him as a man who is honestly administering the responsibilities of his place, according to the light and character given him. But that does not prevent us from seeing that the claims his managers are making for him as to strength in the coming national convention are based upon a very slender thread, of little strength. Oregon and Nebraska are the last two states to speak, and the story is getting monotonous in its unanimity for Roosevelt. And it is worthy of note that in several states, particularly of the West, Taft has been third in the race, running behind La Follette, and actually getting only about a quarter of the total votes polled. In the face of such figures, the assertions of in Alaska and in the Philippines, which each will have two votes in the convention, though none in the electoral college; and of instructed delegations from the "black belt," are ludicrous, or would be if they were not pitiable. Even in New York there was no instruction for Taft, and he will only get the delegates if he is picked as a winner. This delegation undoubtedly stands to land with the man who can demonstrate that he is possessed of the greatest strength.

It is this collection of upward of 200 delegates from territory that is voteless or from states that will go Democratic—it is this sheer farce of delegates that the Taft managers parade before the country to prove that the President should be nominated and will be nominated—when Republican states like Maine, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Wisconsin and North Dakota are kicking his candidacy into kingdom come, with more booting of it out of the convention still to come from other Republican states as the voters of his party take the primary field.

No candidate basing his claims for a Republican nomination upon delegates from territory without the national franchise and upon delegates from the Black Belt Solid South could stand for an instant in the Chicago convention against the deafening protests and crashing opposition of the great Republican states which make Republican presidents at the polls whenever Republican Presidents are made.

The reciprocity treaty that Taft and Knox negotiated with Canada was a subversion of the reciprocity principle as established by Blaine and McKinley. The administration's negotiations with Canada were conducted secretly and there was no effort at a scientific consideration of the tariff questions involved. It was mere trading, in which Taft and Knox sacrificed the American farmer. The free traders hailed the proposed agreement as the first breach in the protection wall. As a strong protection state, the proposed pact was highly objectionable to California in being the beginning of the downward road to free trade. Roosevelt's denunciation of the treaty and his demand for a tariff commission show that California's industries will fare best in his hands.

In California the first Progressive legislature submitted the suffrage amendment and the Progressive movement carried the amendment at the polls. In Wisconsin, on the other hand, where a suffrage measure could have been submitted by a bare majority of the members present in each house—instead of requiring, as in California, a constitutional amendment that must have the support of two-thirds of the total membership of the legislature—no such amendment was submitted to the electorate until the last session, although the Progressives and their suffrage advocates boast of power for many years.

Medill McCormick doesn't own $1 of stock in the Harvester trust. The two McCormicks that are interested in the concern—consuls of Medill—are evenly divided between Taft and Wilson. It was out of this family relationship of Medill McCormick's that was created the widely spread canard that the Harvester Trust was supporting Roosevelt.

Governor Johnson continues to be the object of bitter attack in the Taft campaign. No "mob, in fitful impulse," ever engaged in enterprise so vicious and wildly irresponsible. The real danger to American institutions is from the wicked methods of the interest-controlled press.

"Mask falls from Roosevelt's duplicity" is the heading in the San Francisco Chronicle of the most vicious attack against the former president, "Whom the gods would destroy, etc."

A Roosevelt triumph in California will have an important bearing on the fight in Ohio. The president's home state will be the very last to choose delegates.

Taft's floundering on tariff revision has done more harm to the principle of protection than the free traders could do in twenty years.

ROOSEVELT MEETS CHARGES OF TAFT

and emphasized what I said at Columbus.

"Again, when Mr. Taft in any speech speaks of me directly or obliquely as a neurotic, or a demagogue, or in similar terms, I shall say nothing except to point out that if he feels obliged to use such language he would better preserve his own self-respect by not protesting that it gives him pain to do so.

"As to Mr. Taft's statements that I am appealing to discontent and class hatred, they are true to the extent that I appeal to discontent with class government and to hatred of what is wrong. I am discontented with Mr. Lorrimer, and I think the people are. Does Mr. Taft complain of my expressing such discontent? I appeal to what I believe to be the genuine American hatred of the boss and of special privilege."

Taft Stands on Bosses' Side
Using quotations from the president, the colonel insisted that President Taft "has been defending the theory that the bosses are better able to tell what the people need than are the people themselves."

He said: "Either his words mean absolutely and precisely this or they mean absolutely and precisely nothing; and for him to try to escape the consequences of his statements by saying that he alluded only to women and children is trifling with the intelligence of the people."

"On which side are the bosses?" he asked, answering: "I am more fortunate in my friends than Mr. Taft. 'Mr. Taft says that in my various campaigns I accepted the assistance of these bosses. So I did when they chose to go my way, and to support the cause of the people. The trouble with Mr. Taft is that he gets their assistance at the price of going their way, and opposing the cause of the people.'"

Charges Taft With Disloyalty
Charging President Taft with disloyalty in the harvester trust affair, the colonel said:

"Mr. Taft said yesterday that never in thought, word or deed had he been disloyal in his friendship for me. It is hard for me to answer such a statement save by calling it the grossest and most astounding hypocrisy. When Mr. Taft made that statement he had just sent in to the United States Senate, on half an hour's notice, obviously in collusion with the Democratic senator who made the request, papers which were intended to convey the impression that I had improperly favored the harvester trust by declining to prosecute it in 1907. Every Taft newspaper I have seen has so interpreted Mr. Taft's action."

Mr. Roosevelt denied that he changed his position on Canadian reciprocity and said Mr. Taft's act in publishing a letter of his, in answer to a letter of Taft's marked "confidential" in regard thereto, was an unpardonable sin on the part of any man calling himself a gentleman.

Culpably Responsible
With regard to the ne-Aldrich tariff, Colonel Roosevelt, stated he would hold Mr. Taft culpably responsible for having led the people to believe that he favored a substantial downward revision. The colonel denied Mr. Taft's assertion that he (the colonel) proposed to abolish the anti-trust law, and declared the administration "betrayed the interest of the people" when Wickersham and Taft accepted the circuit court decree in the tobacco case without referring it back to the supreme court.

Replying to the president's assertion that he could not be entrusted with successive presidential terms because of his impatience of legal restraint, the colonel said:

"It does not lie in his (Taft's) mouth to say this. He served under me through my seven and a half years. He did not then discover that I had any of the faults which he now finds in me."

The colonel then concluded: "I do not think that Mr. Taft means ill: I think he means well. But he means well feebly. It is this quality of feebleness in a normally amiable man which pre-eminently fits such a man for use in high office by the powers of evil. Against these men and their powerful influence of evil Mr. Taft is hopelessly unable to protect the people."

TAFT HAS NO COMMENT:

WILL REPLY TONIGHT

State Senator Gates, president of the league for Southern California, will be the chairman, and 300 vice presidents, including about 100 women, will occupy seats on the stage.

He expressed satisfaction with the results of last night's meeting held here. His manager has not announced whether or not he has succeeded in making a new itinerary that will include the citrus belt cities.

Another Viewpoint
To the Editor of the Register:
At the close of the very good lecture on "The White Slave Traffic," at the Congregational church, the prevailing feeling seemed to be that the "next duty" for Santa Ana in the matter is to see to it that none of our high school young people shall dance.

But to some of us the burning necessity of abolishing the whole profit system is the "next duty" made apparent by the disclosures of the speaker; and nothing short of that can afford relief from the appalling dangers that surround us.

Just so long as the "red plague" exists, just so long will every one of us be exposed to contamination through the handling of money and a hundred other channels, without the intervention of the social dance; and this is one of the ways in which God is trying to teach us His beautiful law of the solidarity of the human race—that we are in fact brothers, and that an injury to one is the concern of all.

When we have relegated rent, interest and profit to the past where they belong, with the tallow candle and the stage coach, then, under sane, normal conditions of life, our young people can indulge in the instinct to dance (an instinct as universal as that of music) without detriment to their physical or moral health.

Doings In Social and Club Circles

DINNER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Davis Entertain Friends With Pleasant Social Function

A charming dinner party was given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Davis at their French street home which has lately been remodeled to great advantage. One of the pleasing changes is the addition of a handsome and cozy library.

It was a congenial party that gathered about the beautifully appointed and decorated table when the five course dinner was served at six-thirty o'clock. There were covers laid for sixteen, the guests being Mr. and Mrs. John Beatty, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Keech, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lamme, Dr. and Mrs. C. D. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner.

The dinner was doubly enjoyed because of the pretty decorations. From a basket of lovely Maman Cochet roses in the center were streamers of pink gauze ribbon extending to pink shaded candelabra at either end of the table. The pink color scheme was further carried out in the small baskets for the salted almonds and in the ice cream. The evening following the dinner was spent in conversation.

—O—

Minstrel Show Was Success

Last night was a big night at the Fraternal Brotherhood, the famous Hallman's Minstrels entertaining the members and their friends.

James Ryan took the part of Professor Hallman and handled the interlocutor's part in the best of style, his voice being clear and his articulation so distinct that everything was easily understood.

As to the end men, Chas. Berry as Mr. Johnson was a whole show in himself, his jokes creating laughter from start to finish. His song, "Fifty Cents," was the hit of the evening, the closing words, "We don't shout any advice if you have but fifty cents."

George Fleishman as Mr. Brown, the other end man, handled his part well, getting off many good jokes.

The members of the cast and their songs follow:

Chas. Berry, as Mr. Johnson, singing "Fifty Cents"; Claire Young, as Mr. Jackson; Floyd Mitchell, as Mr. Powell, singing "Silver Threads Among the Gold"; Ernest Dresser as Mr. Lee, singing "Everybody's Doing It"; James Ryan as Prof. Hallman; Harry Rossier as Mr. Wilson; Earl Butterfield as Mr. Chord, singing "Daddy Jim"; Arthur Martin as Mr. McDonald, singing "All I Ask Is Love"; George Fleishman as Mr. Brown, singing "Baby Rose"; Clint Howland as Mr. Foster, singing "Meet Me in Dreamland." The performance closed with the singing of "Merrily We Roll Along" by the entire company.

Very pleasing were the solos well sung by Clifford Johnson during the intermission.

Among other features to be given on the program of our Students' recital of May 7, will be a demonstration of the musical kindergarten work in its varied phases. This alone will be well worth coming to see and hear.

Our Piano, Vocal and Violin departments will also be represented. Better get your tickets early as Elks hall has a limited seating capacity. 504½ N. Main St. Main 214

RAY PETTY AUTHOR OF REAL MUSICAL COMEDY

A real musical comedy, with original songs, choruses of pretty young co-eds, spotlight effects, and all the rest that goes with a musical show, will be presented by the students of Occidental College at the Los Angeles Gamut Club auditorium tonight, says the Los Angeles Tribune.

The name of the musical comedy, in three acts, is "The Sawdust Hero," and is the work of two popular young Angelenos, A. Ray Petty and Miss Ethel Ward. The former was responsible for the book and lyrics and the two together composed the music of the piece. Miss Ward, who is a clever composer, worked out the orchestrations.

Fifteen original songs are presented, all tuneful and catchy. Among them are "Mr. Freshman," "Moon Maid," "Every Kind of Lovin's Great," "It's Football," "I'm Simply Wild About You," "The Psychology of the Crowd," and "Little Girl, I Want You." Some of these songs soon will be published by the authors.

A pretty story of college life runs through the three acts of the play, and it is all full of genuine college fun.

The production is staged under the direction of Benjamin Scovel.

Farmers' Club

The Farmers' Club will meet at A. D. Bishop's this evening. The subject for consideration is "How Shall We Beautify the State Highway?"

Missionary Tea

The women of the Missionary Society of the M. E. Church South, held their regular monthly tea services at North Main street, at 2:30 yesterday afternoon.

Will Live in Los Angeles

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Thatcher will leave on next Tuesday for Los Angeles, where Mr. Thatcher will engage in business. Mr. Thatcher lately resigned from his position as superintendent of the Co-operative Sugar Company.

The Thatchers will be greatly missed in Santa Ana, where they have made many friends.

Methodist Event

The ladies of the First Methodist church held their monthly "At Home" yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jay Powers on Pine street, and it proved to be an unusually attractive and successful affair. There was a good attendance of ladies, who were entertained with a short program, during which Dorris Price rendered violin solos and vocal numbers were given by the Misses Wilson. A pretty piano number was played by a young girl whose name was not learned. Appetizing refreshments followed the program and an hour was devoted to sociability.

During a short business meeting the ladies decided to divide the sessions of the usual all-day meetings of the women's societies of the church (this month) owing to alterations being made in the church. The Ladies' Aid Society will hold a meeting on Tuesday afternoon and the Home Missionary Society will convene on Wednesday afternoon.

PROGRESSIVE WHIST

Mrs. Wehrly Hostess at Delightful Party; Half a Hundred Ladies Were Present

One of the very prettiest parties of the season was that given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. John Wehrly at her home on Spurgeon street, when Mrs. Wehrly entertained about fifty of her women friends with progressive whist. She was assisted in entertaining and serving by Mrs. Theo. Winbiger, Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. George Whidden. No decorations of any party during the season has exceeded in beauty those of yesterday's function. Everywhere possible were exquisite pink roses, the dainty Maman Cochet being used in hanging baskets, at the openings of all the rooms as well as being banked on the piano. The result was charming. The handsome gowns of the ladies blended harmoniously with the artistic environment. Mrs. Wehrly is a most successful hostess and made a happy choice of assistants, so that the hours passed pleasantly and swiftly.

Mesdames Pease, Twist and Cavins tied on high scores in the whist games, Mrs. Pease being successful in the cut. Her prize was a crystal and filigree silver sugar and cream set. Mrs. Frederick G. Taylor was awarded a handsome bound volume of Wordsworth's poems for second-best score, and Mrs. H. M. Robertson and Mrs. W. L. Grubb cut for consolation prize, a box of elegant stationery. Mrs. Robertson winning.

Delicious refreshments were served after the award of prizes, the ladies being seated at small tables during this hour. The pink and white color scheme that prevailed in the decorations was also seen in the dainty viands.

Picnics in Park

Orange County Park was gay with the sound of young voices today, hundreds of children from two grammar schools and two Sunday schools of Santa Ana starting from here early this morning to enjoy the day in that lovely spot.

The picnicking grades were from Roosevelt and Jefferson schools and the Sunday school picnicers were from the First Baptist and Unitarian Sunday schools.

Juvenile Wedding

There was an elaborate wedding at the E. S. Baker home last evening. Not a really, truly one, but a mock ceremony which was so correct in every detail as to make the young participants feel confident of being able to carry out a proper one when they are grown-up—should they care to do so. Many rehearsals made the affair go smoothly when the hour came.

To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Gladys Burns, the wedding party entered the living room. They were preceded by Clara Perkins, who acted as flower girl, and Arthur Lyon, the ring bearer. The bride, Miss Christine Murkett, attired in a white lingerie dress, made en train, wearing a veil and carrying a bouquet of bride roses and ferns, was attended by Miss Frances Baker, the maid of honor, and Misses Virginia Metzger and Mary Grubb, bridesmaids. They were met by the priest, Carl Burns, who used the Catholic service, reading it from the prayer book. The bride and groom stood under an electric lamp, in the form of a wedding bell.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore white dresses and carried pink Maman Cochet roses. The house decorations were Cecil Bruner roses and ferns. After congratulations, refreshments were enjoyed.

Beside the wedding party, those present were: Roberta and Truman Dawes, Mary Gregg, Verne Gregg, Margaret Lyon, Laura Davis, Vera Hendrickson, Mary Louise Williams of Los Angeles, Philip Murkett, Sarah and Bertram Snow.

DON'T FORGET MAY 4. CLEAN-UP DAY—“GET DEM TOOLS”

The Clean-up Committee of the Civic Association would remind the citizens of an important date, Saturday, May 4, "Clean-up Day."

The conscience of every good citizen, including the new voters, should be kept at work right along, promptly everybody to reserve that date strictly for civic house-cleaning. Get out the "shrub and the hoe" and sharpen them up, enlarge the coffee pots, toughen your hands—and remember Clean-up Day.

DIED

KEELING—In this city, April 26, 1912, Opal Fay Keeling, aged 86 years.

Deceased was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Keeling, who came here about a week ago from Dequoin, Ill. With them came a brother of Mrs. Keeling's named Brown, and his family. At the time they arrived the little girl was apparently well, but several days later she was suddenly taken ill and died. The family was so prostrated by this unexpected blow that they decided not to locate in California, as planned. Brief services were read over the little body at Mills & Winbiger's chapel at 8 o'clock last evening, and this morning the two

What is the Answer?
What kind of medicine does a father take for a wayward daughter?
He takes an elixir (he takes and he licks her).
When may a man be said to break fast before he gets up?
When he takes a roll in bed.

One is hollowed in, the other is hollowed out.
When is a sick man a contradiction?
When he is an impatient patient.
What is taken from you before you get up?
Your portrait.
When is a horse a victim of the Inquisition?
When it is fastened to the rack.

Who's Your Jeweler?

This doesn't seem like a very important question, but when you consider how little the average person knows about jewelry and for how much you have to take your jeweler's word, it appears that it does mean something after all.

And when you consider the amount of work your poor little watch has to do, in the course of a year, and how important it is that it should be right, it gets to be a more serious proposition that it at first seems.

So, if you want to have absolute confidence in your purchases and repairs, be sure that your jeweler's name is

FIVE HUNDRED NEW SETTLERS IN 60 DAYS

Expect Population to Double in 4 Months

Since the Great Water Discovery in SAN JACINTO, the whole Valley is on the move. Had it been a Gold Strike, the excitement could not be greater. It certainly could not have done as much genuine good to as great a number of people. It is a case now of a cozy, thrifty home in one of the most fertile, as well as the most beautiful garden spots on earth, before they are all gone, or the price gets beyond the reach of the average pocketbook. They are bound to treble or more in price, and still be a bargain over anything else with similar advantages. We prophesy that it won't be four months before every foot in the Valley will be selling at a premium.

Remember, every acre is at present under a high state of cultivation, great apricot, peach and walnut orchards, the best alfalfa fields in the State, in fact there is no limit to the variety of crops and fruits that can be grown to the very best advantage in this soil. It has been rightly termed the country of the Big Potato.

A Committee with autos has been appointed to show everybody around free, and we extend a hearty invitation to all our good neighbors to see this beautiful little Valley of ours in all its glory. Come over on the Santa Fe in the morning, back in the evening. The San Jacinto Board of Trade, San Jacinto, Cal.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

With the arrival of Bermuda onions from the Imperial Valley in daily increasing quantities the market is becoming more free. A decline yesterday of 10 and 25 cents a crate brought the quotations down to $1.75 and $2. The day's receipts were 513 crates.

Butter and eggs both were steady at quotations. Trading was normal, egg receipts amounting to 659 cases and butter 9776 pounds. Egg shipments indicated a falling off in the local supply.

Potatoes were weak despite the large reduction in prices the past several days. Trading in them, however, was heavy by those who had not fortified themselves with storage stock, which is said to be more than sufficient for a month's supply.

Cheese receipts were above normal—$205 pounds—several of the listed varieties being weak at quotations. Northern cheese was the chief trader of the day and there was a fair demand for limburger.

The clean up storage stock of apples has begun. Spitzenbergs were removed from the board yesterday. Smith Ciders advanced 40 cents a box, the new quotation being $1.75. Colorado Winesaps declined from 50 to 75 cents a box, the new quotation being $1.50 and $2. Colorado Gano apples dropped to $1.85.

Pineapples declined a cent on the top price, to 8 and 9 cents a pound. The recent arrival of high grade shipments from Hawaii caused the reduction.

All green vegetables were in sufficient supply to meet the demand.

Orange Land $375 An Acre

A GOOD BUY

50 acres of fine land 3 miles from Garden Grove, all good orange or alfalfa land; electric pumping plant, house and barn. Windmill and tank; 15 acres set to walnut trees; 3 horses, 125 hogs, farming tools. All go with place at $375 per acre.

SMITH & COOLEY
308 East Fourth St. Santa Ana, Cal.

Orchards

Already planted may now be bought in the Yucaipa valley. These places were set one and two years ago to Winesaps, Rome Beauty and Arkansas Blacks, and the trees have made a fine growth, having been well cared for by competent orchardists. Yucaipa trees begin to bear the third year and yield a handsome income the fourth year, which increases for many, many years as the big trees in the upper valley prove. The number of planted orchards on the market is very limited and soon will be bought up for this season. They are elegant investments for people who do not wish to plant and care for their own places. Competent orchardists in the valley will care for the trees, irrigating, cultivating and pruning for $10 per acre per year, as old do it right. They make a business of caring for orchards. The improvements in the valley are advancing at a lively rate. Planting hundreds of acres, grading streets, finishing the laying of the water mains, building homes, opening stores, and starting two churches. The elegant new grammar school building is completed and is being occupied last week. We should have stated above that the planted one year orchards may be bought on the same easy terms as the land is sold only six per cent interest on deferred payments. And don't forget the new subdivision now ready in the lower valley adjoining famous Redlands. Come now, go with us to see for yourself this beautiful valley only 40 miles from Orange county. We go two or three times a week. Free trips through valley.

Mose's Million
(From Saturday Evening Post)
E. F. Swinney, president of the First National Bank of Kansas City, was born in the South. He goes back home once or twice a year, and it is part of the home-coming program to have Old Mose polish his shoes. Old Mose prides himself on the fact that he has known "Misteh Eddie" since he was born—and "his daddy befo' him."

When Mr. Swinney was there recently Mose was polishing his shoes. He stopped and asked:

"Misteh Eddie, how much is a million dollars?"

"Well, Mose," Mr. Swinney replied, "you have seen ten silver dollars haven't you? Now imagine ten of those stacks and you have a hundred dollars. Then ten times that and you have one thousand dollars. Then ten times that and you have ten thousand dollars—and one hundred times that and you have a million."

"Misteh Eddie," continued Mose, exceedingly troubled, "would all them silvah dollahs go on that table yon-dah?"

"No, Mose—not if they were piled to the ceiling. What would you do if you had a million silver dollars, Mose?"

Mose stopped shining. He pondered for a minute. Then he said:

"Well, Misteh Eddie, I reckon I'd have mah cistehn cleaned out."
